DENE THA' FIRST NATION
EMERGENCY RESPONSE TO COVID-19 MANAGEMENT

Mandatory Safety Measures and Restrictions in Dene Tha' First Nation Communities
Effective from: June 1 - 30, 2021
Chief & Council Directive

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

On February 18, 2021, Dene Tha' First Nation Chief and Council declared a State of Local Emergency. This State of Local Emergency remains in place as we continue adjusting our response plans for easing of some restrictions. The Emergency Management Team will be maintaining a measured COVID-19 response to continue to intervene and manage control of COVID-19 to minimize the spread in communities. Together we have been making a difference, and together we will stay strong in our measures, so we don't lose ground on what we have gained.

Thank you to every member that has limited their contacts, helped control the spread, and has done their part in helping us bring the cases down. Now is not the time to relax restrictions; we still need to remain vigilant during the pandemic. COVID-19 remains a global challenge and COVID-19 variants are spreading even more rapidly. We want to remind you of the importance to continue to be mindful of your actions and make sure you continue to follow the measures in place to protect our Elders, and to keep our Nation and our members safe and healthy. Remember, the virus is carried by people.

Please be hereby notified that the additional safety measures and restrictions that Chief & Council enacted by Directive by Motion 2020-026 for Chateh, Bushe River and Meander River will remain and are reinstated.

These measures will remain in force and effect as we monitor daily the risk levels to our community. When our risk levels are to a degree that we consider your safety no longer in jeopardy, we will consider decisions to make changes to these measures and restrictions and you will be notified. We want you to have confidence in the coming weeks that we are doing all we can to continue to protect you, our members and communities.

We are aware that our Nation's additional safety measures and restrictions are over and above public health orders in effect within the Province of Alberta; you are expected to comply with the greater level. Dene Tha' First Nation's leadership and the EMT are asking for your cooperation to follow and abide by the Mandatory Safety Measures and Restrictions to ensure the health and safety of every Nation member(s).

In order to reduce the spread of COVID-19 we ask that all members please:

1. Cooperate with the health professionals conducting case management and contact tracing efforts to ensure timely and effective communicable disease control measures.
2. Immediately self-isolate and contact the health centre if you have any symptoms of COVID19.
3. Wear a mask and practice good hand hygiene; and
4. Continue to avoid non-essential travel, limit contacts to your immediate household and do not attend any public gatherings.
5. Continue to follow existing Dene Tha' First Nation restrictions and guidance on travel restrictions.

Mandatory Public Health Measures in Dene Tha' First Nation Communities:

Adherence to all public health directives of Dene Tha' First Nation and orders and legislation of the province of Alberta; where the Dene Tha' First Nation public health directive is more stringent than that of Alberta, those in and around DTFN communities are cautioned to exercise their discretion while in the communities during the COVID-19 pandemic; the following restrictions and safety measures are in place.

*Update as of May 25, 2021 – Effective June 1, unless stated otherwise: Alberta will enter Stage 1, two weeks after 50% of Albertans 12+ (born in 2009 or earlier) have received at least one dose, and hospitalizations are below 800 and declining. COVID-19 transmission will continue to be monitored and if required, a stage may be paused to respond to trends at regional or provincial levels. All other provincial restrictions will remain in place until further notified.

Isolation & Quarantine Requirements: Legal requirements in Alberta

You need to get someone to do your shopping, etc. You are required to stay home and not go anywhere.
- Minimum mandatory isolation for 10 days for anyone who has a confirmed case of COVID-19 or have core symptoms that are not related to a pre-existing illness or health condition: cough, fever, shortness of breath, runny nose or sore throat. ISOLATE means remain alone or apart from others to avoid spreading the illness.
  - Children under 18 are exempt from mandatory isolation for runny nose or sore throat but should stay home until symptoms are gone and they feel well.

Public Health Orders - Enforcement

- Legally enforceable and fines can be issued for violations in Alberta. If you violate a public health order, you may be subject to a $2,000 fine. Additionally, you can be prosecuted for up to $100,000 for a first offense.
- Isolating is a legal requirement by Public Health Orders 05-2020 and 28-2020, and failure to comply could result in major fines. A complaint line is available for the Nation is open for anyone wanting to report individuals who are not adhering to these public health orders. Another option is to go through the provincial reporting line available here: <https://ephisahs.microsoftcrmportals.com/create-case/>
- Perimeter monitoring will be put in place when needed. Lists will be provided to the health centre to determine if quarantined or isolated individuals are not following the public health order and measures. Uncooperative individuals will be contacted by the RCMP and, should individuals continue to not follow public health measures, the RCMP will escalate the response accordingly. This approach protects individual confidentiality and has worked in the past in limiting travel and ensuring isolation orders are followed. Individuals who have cases of COVID-19 will be known only to health centre and RCMP.
